Philanthropy Online Driving Growth

Focus: Musculoskeletal Care

Dear Friend of Cleveland Clinic,

In this issue of Catalyst eNews learn about a new institute bringing together 2 complimentary disciplines and grateful patients who are benefiting. Meet a supporter who's giving back after 3 successful knee replacement surgeries at Cleveland Clinic and a Texan who is focusing his energy toward supporting the Orthopaedic Surgery Center. Also, find out how a chicken's red spiky head ornamentation relates to pain relief.

Have a happy holiday and best wishes for the new year!

Enjoy,
The Catalyst eNews Staff

Institute Combines Disciplines

The number of individuals who will require musculoskeletal care will likely double in the next 7 years because of the influx of aging baby boomers who, by 2011, will begin turning age 60. The new Orthopaedic and Rheumatologic Institute is addressing this by bringing together orthopaedic surgeons and non-operative rheumatology physicians to provide comprehensive musculoskeletal care to those in need.

Meet the Development Officers

Today's Innovations, Tomorrow's Healthcare

is a philanthropic campaign to raise $1.25 billion for Cleveland Clinic. Success will boost Cleveland Clinic's already exceptional patient care, research and educational programs. This campaign will benefit patients, redefine medicine and create new opportunities that have a direct and beneficial impact on the health and well-being of our local communities.

Crowing about Knee Pain Relief

Most people don't think of a chicken's red spiky head ornamentation when they think about pain relief. But that's exactly what a viscosupplement, an injected treatment used for osteoarthritis pain, is derived from: rooster combs.

3 Successful Surgeries Inspire Gift

When Larry Weiss underwent his third knee replacement surgery at Cleveland Clinic, he felt indebted to the surgeons and staff who allowed him to maintain his active lifestyle. In turn, he recently expressed his gratitude with a gift to the Cleveland Clinic Orthopaedic Surgery Center and honoring a long-time business partner.

Taking Ankle Replacement in Stride

Two decades ago, Karl Morgenthaler was trimming a large willow tree in his backyard when a limb fell. It pushed him to the ground, and his foot was trapped between the branches. Mr. Morgenthaler knew instantly that his ankle was broken. Surgery repaired the ankle and held it together with a metal plate and 7 screws. Everything was fine - until arthritic deterioration caused bone to rub on bone.
